

Beatles for Babies review at Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury – 'imaginative theatre for a young audience'

Posted By Jo Caird On Aug 29, 2018 @ 5:35 pm

In Theatre | Comments Disabled

Early years company La Petita Malumaluga have performed this tribute to the Fab Four all over the world and it's not hard to see why this nearly wordless show has gone down such a storm internationally. These dates at the Boing Children's Festival in Canterbury mark the British premiere.

The concept is simple: four musicians (Alba Haro on cello, Laura Marin on violin, Nil Villa on alto saxophone, Albert Vila on percussion) playing stripped back, jazz-influenced interpretations of Beatles tunes in the round. Jordi Bello's arrangements are charming to listen to, but what makes the show so effective for its audience of under-3s is the dynamic staging (by Vilà and Eva Vilamitjana). All four musicians are in near constant motion, with Vilamitjana providing additional vibrancy as the show's only non-musical performer.

The all-white design (by Paula Bosch in collaboration with La Petita Malumaluga) means that the focus stays on the music and the music-makers, with the few choice bits of inventive percussion thrown in as the show progresses ensuring that there's always something new and interesting to look at and listen

Special mention goes to the section where Vila conducts audience members playing dozens of colourful boomwhacker tubes, and to the lovely suspended drums that also serve as little projector screens for Anna Carreras' fun projections. Claudi Palomino's lighting design is also instrumental in creating drama, helping to raise this sweet performance from mere tribute act to a real theatre experience for young audiences.

Verdict

Imaginative show for under-3s that introduces a new generation to the Fab Four

Production

Production

Beatles for Babies

Venue

Gulbenkian Theatre

City

Canterbury

Starts

August 25, 2018

Ends

August 26, 2018, then touring

Director

Director: Albert Vila and Eva Vilamitjana

Choreographer

Eva Vilamitjana

Set

Paula Bosch

Lighting

Claudi Palomino

Video

---

Technical

Ivan Rubio

---

Production manager

Albert Vila and Eva Vilamitjana

---

Cast includes

Alba Haro, Laura Marin, Nil Villa, Albert Vila, Eva Vilamitjana

---

Producer

La Petita Malumaluga

---

Running time

40mins

---

---

Article printed from The Stage: <https://www.thestage.co.uk>

URL to article: <https://www.thestage.co.uk/reviews/2018/beatles-for-babies-review-gulbenkian-theatre/>

Copyright © 2017 The Stage. All rights reserved.